Student Zone

It is never too early to start thinking about your future. It is sensible to explore more than one option or institution, to work out for yourself, where is best for you, rather than relying on other peoples' opinions. When looking into different options, there are some questions you should consider:

- If you have studied it before, do you enjoy it ? the subject?
- How is it assessed? (Do you prefer coursework or exam?)
- How does it differ from GCSEs? What topics will you be learning?
- How do your teachers feel you will cope with it? Do they have concerns?
- What have people, who have done this course/apprenticeship before, gone on to do next? What grades did they get?
- Where is it based? Is there help available with the cost of transport?
- Are there any opportunities for work experience?
- What GCSE grades do you need to get on the course/apprenticeship?
- What qualification(s) would you get from doing this?

Please find attached below instructions to manually register students and teachers with the access does, any questions please let me know.
